4. Device Description

The Rhytec, Inc. Portrait PSR3 is an electro-surgical device for use in dermatological applications. UHF energy from the generator converts Nitrogen gas into plasma within the handpiece. The plasma emerges from the nozzle at the distal end of the handpiece and is directed onto the skin to be treated. Rapid heating of the skin occurs as the excited gas gives up energy to the skin. Through the combination within the handpiece of precisely controlled energy and Nitrogen gas, individual plasma pulses are produced that will give predictable tissue effects.
5. Indications for Use

The Portrait PSR3 is indicated for treatment of the following dermatological conditions:

- Treatment of wrinkles and rhytides
- Superficial skin lesions
- Actinic Keratosis
- Viral Papillomata
- Seborrhoeic Keratosis

6. Performance Data

A clinical study was conducted which included 10 subjects treated in 30 anatomical sites which showed significant improvement in each of the three anatomic regions observed. Reduction in skin dyspigmentation and wrinkle severity was observed in neck and chest skin and in the skin of the dorsum of the hands.

Dear Ms. O’Connell:

We have reviewed your Section 510(k) premarket notification of intent to market the device referenced above and have determined the device is substantially equivalent (for the indications for use stated in the enclosure) to legally marketed predicate devices marketed in interstate commerce prior to May 28, 1976, the enactment date of the Medical Device Amendments, or to devices that have been reclassified in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (Act) that do not require approval of a premarket approval application (PMA). The general controls provisions of the Act include requirements for annual registration, listing of devices, good manufacturing practice, labeling, and prohibitions against misbranding and adulteration.

If your device is classified (see above) into either class II (Special Controls) or class III (PMA), it may be subject to such additional controls. Existing major regulations affecting your device can be found in the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 21, Parts 800 to 898. The FDA finding of substantial equivalence of your device to a legally marketed predicate device results in a classification for your device and thus, permits your device to proceed to the market.

If you desire specific advice for your device on our labeling regulation (21 CFR Part 801), please contact the Office of Compliance at (240) 276-0115.
