This information pertains to the risk of hepatotoxicity including drug-induced liver injury (DILI).

This supplemental new drug application provides for revisions to the labeling for Imbruvica (ibrutinib). The agreed upon changes to the language included in our March 22, 2024, letter are as follows (additions are noted by underline and deletion are noted by strikethrough).

Hepatotoxicity, including severe, life-threatening, and potentially fatal cases of drug_induced liver injury (DILI), haves been observed occurred in patients treated with Bruton tyrosine kinase inhibitors including IMBRUVICA.

Evaluate bilirubin and transaminases at baseline and throughout treatment with IMBRUVICA. For patients who develop abnormal liver tests after IMBRUVICA, monitor more frequently monitoring for liver test abnormalities and clinical signs and symptoms of hepatic toxicity is recommended. If DILI is suspected, withhold IMBRUVICA. Upon confirmation of DILI, discontinue IMBRUVICA.

3. Subsection 6.2, Postmarketing Experience:

Hepatobiliary disorders: hepatic failure including acute and/or fatal events, hepatic cirrhosis, drug_induced liver injury

Inform patients that liver problems, including severe, life threatening, or fatal hepatitis, DILI drug-induced liver injury and abnormalities in liver tests, may develop during IMBRUVICA treatment. Advise patients to contact their healthcare provider immediately if they experience fatigue, anorexia, abdominal discomfort, dark urine, or jaundice [see Warnings and Precautions (5.X7)]."

- Patient Package Insert:
- Liver problems. Liver problems, which may be severe or life-threatening, or lead to death, can happen in people treated with IMBRUVICA. Your healthcare provider will do blood tests to check your liver before and during treatment with IMBRUVICA.
